

Display the menu bar within Zoom

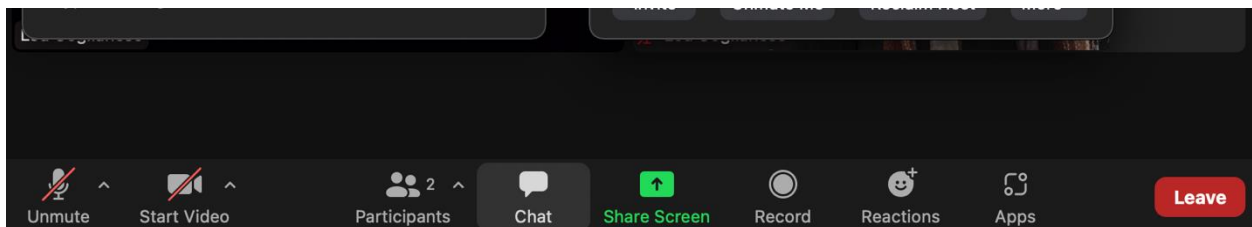

Zoom hides the menu bar to make more room for the videos of the participants' faces. It is hidden below to grid of faces or below the single large video of the speaker, depending on your screen setting.

The picture below shows the gallery view. The toolbar is hidden below the grid of faces.

Move your mouse cursor to the bottom of the window below the bottom row of faces.

The toolbar will slide up and replace the black space at the bottom of the window. It will look something like this (depending on the options selected by the OLLI Administrator that set up the class):

Then just click on the option you want.

Note that is you move your mouse cursor away from the toolbar it will hide itself again.
