

If you don't have a camera or a microphone on your PC, you can still participate in OLLI classes. You can see and hear the video presentation, but people won't be able to see you, and you won't be able to speak.

If you would like the ability to speak in the meeting, do the following

- Mute the speakers on your computer. It is critical to turn the volume all the way down so there is no feedback.
- Using your telephone, dial into the meeting using the telephone number included in the email from OLLI.
